GETTING READY — Pumpkin Show's coming and the city is getting ready. The city service department is resurfacing the approaches to an alley in the downtown section. Badly deteriorated pavement on the approaches made them a hazard to pedestrian traffic according to Atwood Jones, service director. Jones announced today the Scioto Street improvement project will be delayed until after Pumpkin Show.

Report Claims Revenue Sharing Not Needed Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — State and local governments—for which revenue sharing is being enacted—already are running a substantial budget surplus, an economic study reports.

The surplus would increase under either President Nixon's or Sen. George McGovern's espoused programs, but the increase would be larger under

Danes Vote To Enter Euromart

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Danes voted nearly 2-1 Monday in favor of entering the European Common Market, heartening supporters of European unity.

Final results of a popular referendum were announced even as youthful opponents of membership roamed the streets of Copenhagen and burned Danish flags on the steps of Parliament. Anonymous bomb threats were received by the prime minister's office and radio and television stations but no bombs were found.

The record turnout of 89.9 per cent balloted 1,350,000 for and 1,125,000 against.

Unlike an advisory referendum on market membership rejected last week by Norwegian voters, the Danish referendum was binding on the government and Parliament.

The outcome meant that Denmark, Britain and Ireland next January will become full-fledged members of EEC, the European Economic Community, in the first major expansion since the six-nation trading bloc was formed in 1957. France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg are the original six.

Promoters of a united Western Europe hailed the Danish vote as progress toward the goal.

the McGovern plan, concluded the report commissioned by the private research organization, American Enterprise Institute.

The report suggests that the $30-billion, five-year revenue-sharing program will be taking effect just as the strain on the state and local governments, undoubtedly severe during the 1960s, is easing.

The report was written before McGovern, the Democratic presidential nominee, added to his proposals an extra $4 billion in emergency aid for cities. Even so, it estimated an aggregate 1980 surplus for the state-local government sector of $61.1 billion under the McGovern budget, and $20.6 billion under the Nixon budget.

While acknowledging that some states and local units still face fiscal problems, such as those resulting from loss of population, movement of industry and the need to equalize school spending, the study concluded:

"The problem is now one of bringing federal aid to state and local governments more in line with their over-all future needs, not the needs of the past, and to see that such aid goes to those states, cities and towns where real financial distress remains."

Under the present revenue-sharing bill, need is one of several factors determining distribution of funds, but all state and essentially all local government units are eligible for some funds.

MONDAY is the official celebration of Columbus Day, promising government employees a three-day weekend. The official word from the post office in Circleville is that all service windows will be closed Monday, although the lobby will remain open.

Dana is a 1967 graduate of Circleville High School and attended Ohio State University College of Agriculture two years . . .

Malabar Farm is the home of Louis Bromfield, the famous author and conservationist, and was recently given to the state of Ohio. Dana will be in charge of the 595 acre farm. . . . Of the total acreage, 250 are tillable. . . . There is a herd of 100 Holstein dairy cattle at the farm . . .

"Our first concern is to get the farm on a money making basis so it won't be a burden to the state," Bass says. "We will continue milking and we have plans for a farm nursery for visitors." . . .

His duties began Sunday. . . . Dana is currently staying in the Big House that was Bromfield's home, but will soon be moving to the farm manager's house . . .

60,000 Lives Needlessly Lost In 1971

Rip Poor Emergency Care

WASHINGTON (AP) — Doctors were alarmed when they saw the burned and battered 17-year-old youth wheeled into the hospital emergency room.

On a bet he had climbed a utility pole in rural Georgia. The electrical jolt at the top burned his shirt off. The 30-foot fall broke his back and some ribs. One lung was punctured.

But the doctors' alarm multiplied when the ambulance driver boasted how by himself he had handled the emergency. He dragged the youth 50 yards to the ambulance, then rushed to the hospital without immobilizing the victim on a back board to spare possible aggravation from broken bones grinding and cutting within the youth's body.

The youth was relatively fortunate. He lost an arm to the electrical burn, but his other injuries mended without crippling damage.

But another 60,000 persons were not so fortunate last year. That's the number of heart attack, accident and other victims of sudden illness who could have lived if given proper emergency care, according to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

"Emergency medical service is one of the weakest links in the nation," said the National Academy of Sciences in a March study.

The conclusion is echoed repeatedly in government reports and testimony before Congress.

The academy estimated more than 20,000 of the 25,000 ambulances in the country are of the hearse, limousine or station wagon type "inadequate in space and equipment." The Department of Transportation estimated that 53 per cent of the nation's ambulances don't have equipment specified in American College of Surgeons standards.

An HEW survey showed five per cent of the nation's ambulance attendants have no training in first aid. And while almost two-thirds of the attendants have completed the equivalent of an advanced first aid course, the most recent survey showed only about five per cent of all attendants measured up to the more stringent requirements proposed by the federal government.

The survey found that once in ambulances and on their way to hospitals, 40 per cent of the victims received no emergency health care.

The science academy recommended that every ambulance be equipped with a radio system so that hospitals could be

Senate OKs Fat Defense Outlays

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved a $74.6-billion defense spending bill, largest since World War II, after defeating a provision to halt U.S. bombing in Indochina but adopting a warmed-over 1971 end-the-war amendment.

By a 55-26 vote Monday, the Senate defeated Sen. William Proxmire's amendment to delete from the bill some $2 billion earmarked for U.S. bombing in Indochina.

Then it adopted by voice vote the same end-the-war language which passed Congress last year and which President Nixon has ignored.

Nevertheless, Sen. Charles Mathias, R-Md., insisted that attaching the 1971 language to the defense spending bill would prevent the money from being spent unless the prescribed steps were taken to end the war.

But Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the Appropriations Committee, said the Mathias amendment "doesn't mean a thing. It's completely redundant, just a restatement of what is the law of the land today."

The amendment repeats the language proposed by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and attached to a military procurement bill last year.

The amendment urges the President to set a date for withdrawal of all U.S. forces from Indochina if Hanoi releases American prisoners of war and accounts for GIs missing in action. It also urges the President to seek a negotiated cease-fire.

When Nixon signed the bill containing the Mansfield amendment nearly 11 months ago, he called the end-the-war urgings "without binding force or effect."

Arguing for his amendment to cut off money for bombing, Proxmire, D-Wis., labeled the bombing immoral, ineffective and wasteful.

"A record of inhumanity against the yellow man has been riveted into the consciousness of Asians for generations," he stated.

The bill, as finally passed by a 70-5 vote, also includes $30 million to turn over Army KP duties to civilians and funds for major new weapons programs. The bill now goes to a conference committee to resolve differences between the House and Senate versions.

Some $4 billion had been cut from White House requests for military salaries, replacement equipment, new weapons programs, research and development.

Senators voted 46 to 28 to defeat an amendment by Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., to reduce the entire appropriation by 5 per cent, letting the Pentagon choose where to cut. Hart argued the move would have saved $3.7 billion to spend on urgently needed domestic programs.

$30.5 - Billion Labor - HEW Bill Taken Up By Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today takes up a near-duplicate of the $30.5-billion Labor-HEW appropriation bill that President Nixon vetoed last Aug. 16.

The only difference is that the new bill would allow the President to cut up to $935.47 million from various health, education and welfare programs, provided no program were cut more than 10 per cent.

The $935 million would match reductions made by the House in yielding to Nixon's assertion that the original bill, $1.77 billion over his budget, was fiscally irresponsible.

The new $29.6-billion House bill for the departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare and several smaller agencies is $835.8 million over the President's budget request.

In restoring it to the $30.5-billion total of the vetoed bill, the Senate Appropriations Committee noted that Congress is whacking the Defense Department appropriation nearly $5 billion from budget estimates, more than offsetting the proposed increases for health and education.

In addition, the Senate committee said, Congress has acted since the veto to impose a ceiling on social services for public assistance recipients—overcoming a major objection Nixon voiced when he vetoed the prior bill.

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., proposed an amendment to strike from the bill language exempting employers of fewer than 15 persons from the Occupational Health and Safety Act of 1970.

The provision, Case said, would exempt more than 86 per cent of all business establishments from federal safety standards and "jeopardize the health and safety of a full one-fourth of the nation's work force."

Case said his amendment is supported by the Nixon administration.

Fayette County Area Hit By Hog Cholera Outbreak

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP) — A new outbreak of hog cholera caused federal agents today to quarantine a section of Fayette County in central Ohio.

The quarantine was in a five-mile circle around the farm of Irel Knedler where 117 hogs were destroyed Saturday after cholera was confirmed in his herd.

Source of the infected swine had not been determined.

State agricultural officials ordered more than 2,000 head of swine destroyed last month because of the disease. Two weeks ago, they said they had checked the spread of hog cholera.

"This is the first confirmed case we have had in over two weeks," said Gene Abercrombie, director of the Ohio Department of Agriculture. "We thought we had it squelched."

"We are checking the source of the pigs Mr. Knedler had. The federal people put the quarantine on the area, and our veterinarians will keep up a surveillance until we feel the area is safe."

Abercrombie said Knedler bought 93 pigs in two lots in August from the Washington Court House Producers Yard.

"We are doing everything we can to trace them back to the source," he said. "These are feeder pigs and they might have been handled by two or three dealers on the way to Ohio from the South."

Dona Sue Snyder, 25, of Rushville, was killed and three of her children injured when the car she was driving collided with a Fairfield Union School District bus about three miles northeast of here, the patrol said.

Two children on the bus — Kenneth Rowles, 12, and James Byers Jr., 13, both Pleasantville — were treated and released from Lancaster-Fairfield Hospital.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A proposed full-scale congressional investigation of the break-in at Democratic headquarters in the Watergate Hotel was rejected today by the House Banking Committee.

Antiwar Talk 'Price Of Admission' For POW Meet?

(Editors Note: AP Special Correspondent Peter Arnett has just returned from a visit to Hanoi, his first trip to the North Vietnamese capital after eight years of reporting from the battle and political fronts of South Vietnam. In the following story he recounts a dramatic, unexpected meeting with seven American prisoners of war only minutes before he explained to leave Hanoi.)

simple blue denim prison garb. All crewcut. All American. And they had something else in common: a powerful desire to come home.

I could reach out across the table and touch their hands. Yet the gulf between us was immeasurable. I was a free man, about to board a plane within the hour and wing back to the United States.

Not these men. One of them, Navy Cmdr. Eugene Wilbur, from Columbia Cross Roads, Pa., had sat across that table a dozen times in the past four and one half years, watching faces of free men flit by as he waited for his turn.

Wilbur and the six others were all U.S. pilots shot down over North Vietnam and held in prisoner of war camps. I was with a delegation of four American antiwar activists in Hanoi to escort home three pilots released by the North Vietnamese.

At the last moment of our ten-day visit we were summoned to a Government building in downtown Hanoi. We were ushered into a long room and saw tables crowded with beer bottles and glasses.

A few seconds later they came in, seven men with hands outstretched and faces beaming. They were more eager to see us than any other men I had ever met.

Two North Vietnamese officials sat in the room with us. Reporters and television cameras flooded in for the first five minutes. The affair was obviously carefully orchestrated by the North Vietnamese, the pilots handpicked for the meeting.

But only a master impresario could have created the spontaneous burst of feeling that had the pilots in bear hugs with their American visitors.

It is known that most of the approximately 400 U.S. pilots officially reported held in North Vietnamese prison camps don't wish to meet with visiting journalists and U.S. antiwar activists. Apparently they are fearful of being labeled as collaborators.

The Pentagon, however, says it will not hold pilots responsible for statements made while in prison. And watching these seven men animatedly discussing their letters, and families, and prison life, I felt it would take a hardened heart indeed to condemn them for coming that day.

The antiwar statements the seven made apparently were part of the scenario of meetings, the price of admission. Some of the 12 American pilots released by the North Vietnamese over the years reversed their anti-war state-

Swing-Wing Jet Is Pulled From Combat

SAIGON (AP) — The United States has pulled its F111 fighter-bombers from combat after delaying for five days the disclosure that one of the sophisticated planes had vanished mysteriously on its first mission.

While the swing-wing F111 jets were withdrawn, scores of F4 Phantoms from bases in Thailand launched heavy strikes west of Hanoi near the Laotian border where a new North Vietnamese buildup was reported under way for a dry season offensive in Laos.

In raids Monday, which were not disclosed until today by the U.S. Command, the F4s from Ubon, Udorn and Korat Air Bases in Thailand attacked the Na San and Yen Bai air bases and a military barracks between Hanoi and the Laotian border and between Hanoi and the Chinese border.

In apparent retaliation Monday night, terrorists attacked Udon Air Base, 300 miles northeast of Bangkok, killing a Thai sentry and wounding two Americans and two Thais. One terrorist was reported killed, and one captured in the raid, the second in 24 hours against U.S. bases in Thailand. Ubon Air Base, 200 miles southeast of Udon, came under mortar attack Sunday night.

The U.S. Command refused to officially acknowledge the reports, which came from reliable sources, that the $9 million F111 planes had been withdrawn from combat after the loss of one with two crewmen aboard Thursday. Less than a dozen bombing missions were flown by the F111s which had just returned to the war zone after a four-year absence, sources said.

"We have no comment," said a Command spokesman, refusing to confirm or deny the reports.

Agnew Attacks McGovern Stand

Sen. George McGovern is trying hard to convince the voters that the Nixon administration is corrupt, but Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says such charges are reckless and won't obscure the Nixon achievements.

"No amount of verbal pyrotechnics on the part of a desperate opposition" can obscure President Nixon's record of "peace and security overseas and prosperity and progress here at home," Agnew said Monday.

He said McGovern's "reckless allegation" of corruption showed "a lack of maturity ... a lack of self-discipline ... a lack of qualities a president should have."

Swing-Wing Jet Is Pulled From Combat

SAIGON (AP) — The United States has pulled its F111 fighter-bombers from combat after delaying for five days the disclosure that one of the sophisticated planes had vanished mysteriously on its first mission.

While the swing-wing F111 jets were withdrawn, scores of F4 Phantoms from bases in Thailand launched heavy strikes west of Hanoi near the Laotian border where a new North Vietnamese buildup was reported under way for a dry season offensive in Laos.

In raids Monday, which were not disclosed until today by the U.S. Command, the F4s from Udon, Udorn and Korat Air Bases in Thailand attacked the Na San and Yen Bai air bases and a military barracks between Hanoi and the Laotian border and between Hanoi and the Chinese border.

In apparent retaliation Monday night, terrorists attacked Udon Air Base, 300 miles northeast of Bangkok, killing a Thai sentry and wounding two Americans and two Thais. One terrorist was reported killed, and one captured in the raid, the second in 24 hours against U.S. bases in Thailand. Udon Air Base, 200 miles southeast of Udon, came under mortar attack Sunday night.

The U.S. Command refused to officially acknowledge the reports, which came from reliable sources, that the $9 million F111 planes had been withdrawn from combat after the loss of one with two crewmen aboard Thursday. Less than a dozen bombing missions were flown by the F111s which had just returned to the war zone after a four-year absence, sources said.

"We have no comment," said a Command spokesman, refusing to confirm or deny the reports.

Report Claims Revenue Sharing Not Needed Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — State and local governments—for which revenue sharing is being enacted—already are running a substantial budget surplus, an economic study reports.

The surplus would increase under either President Nixon's or Sen. George McGovern's espoused programs, but the increase would be larger under the McGovern plan, concluded the report commissioned by the private research organization, American Enterprise Institute.

The report suggests that the $30-billion, five-year revenue-sharing program will be taking effect just as the strain on the state and local governments, undoubtedly severe during the 1960s, is easing.

The report was written before McGovern, the Democratic presidential nominee, added to his proposals an extra $4 billion in emergency aid for cities. Even so, it estimated an aggregate 1980 surplus for the state-local government sector of $61.1 billion under the McGovern budget, and $20.6 billion under the Nixon budget.

While acknowledging that some states and local units still face fiscal problems, such as those resulting from loss of population, movement of industry and the need to equalize school spending, the study concluded:

"The problem is now one of bringing federal aid to state and local governments more in line with their over-all future needs, not the needs of the past, and to see that such aid goes to those states, cities and towns where real financial distress remains."

Under the present revenue-sharing bill, need is one of several factors determining distribution of funds, but all state and essentially all local government units are eligible for some funds.

Columbus Man Killed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Estill Ratliff, 51, of Columbus, was struck and killed by a car as he crossed a street to his home near the Ohio State University campus Monday night.

MONDAY is the official celebration of Columbus Day, promising government employees a three-day weekend. The official word from the post office in Circleville is that all service windows will be closed Monday, although the lobby will remain open.

And if you are planning to place a call to the post office, try using the new telephone number—474-3113. Credit is given to Postmaster Charles Walters for coming up with the idea of using the zip code.

Veterans Told Of Benefits By Federal Counselors

ASSISTANCE — Bob Snyder (left) and Bob Miller (right) can get in touch with the Cleveland branch of the Veterans Administration from their two mobile Veterans Assistance vans at Court and Main Sts. The men are part of a team of six people who work for various federal agencies. They will remain in Circleville through Wednesday to assist veterans in applying for various benefits offered by the national government.

Six representatives, two each from three federal agencies, opened Veterans Assistance vans at Court and Main Sts. 8:30 a.m. Tuesday.

The vans, a fleet of vehicles from the federally sponsored National Assistance for Veterans organization, will remain open until 4 p.m. today and the same times Wednesday in an effort to contact armed forces veterans and make them aware of benefits offered by the government.

The program, dedicated Sept. 15 in Columbus, is a multi-federal agency concept joining the services of the Veterans Administration, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Department of Housing and Urban Affairs and the State Employment Service.

Trained staff from these agencies offer services in all veterans benefits including job placement and training, housing assistance, individual and family counseling and educational assistance.

Purpose of the mobile units, according to L. M. Merritt, director of the Cleveland VA office, is to reach those veterans who have not made full use of their benefits, provide immediate information to veterans on health benefits, housing, opportunities in education, and job training and employment.

In addition, they extend individual, family and motivational counseling to veterans who haven't finished high school, to those living in remote areas and to veterans who have not responded to previous VA outreach efforts.

They will be working with government agencies in the veteran's home community, and tie in with local agencies for follow-through and follow-up by extending outreach to minority and disadvantaged groups through liaison with local neighborhood agencies.

VA representatives are Bob Snyder, Community Service Specialist, and Bob Miller, receptionist. Bill Cade and Steve Schröder are counselors. Frank Devine represents employment services and the Department of HEW is represented by Beverly Coleman.

The vans have already made stops in Hilliard, Grove City, London and Washington C.H. Following the Circleville visit, they plan to go to Lancaster, Newark, Whitehall, Mt. Vernon, Delaware and Marion.

TOTALLED — Teddy Keiffer, 23, Route 1, Ashville, complained of only knee bruises and stiff muscles after he fell asleep at the wheel of his car on the Circleville-Groveport Road, about a half mile north of Perrill Road, at 9:55 a.m.

Tuesday and crashed head-on into a tree after being out of control for 315 feet. Keiffer, who was returning home from his job in Columbus, said he awoke when gravel from the roadside struck the undercarriage of the car. It

Commissioners Buy 2 Cars For Sheriff's Department

Pickaway County Commissioners accepted bids to furnish two new police-package cars for the Sheriff's Department and authorized advertising for bids for a third car for the department.

Submitting bids Monday were Rod Bell Motor Sales Co. and Joe Moats Motors. The bid of $3,672.50 plus the trade of a 1970 model Ford cruiser submitted by the Rod Bell firm was accepted for one car. Moats' bid for the same vehicle was $3,791.

The low bid with trade for a 1970 Chevrolet was submitted by Moats, in the amount of $3,541.40. Bell submitted a bid of $3,672.50 for the same car.

After discussing cost of repair to a cruiser involved in an accident recently, commissioners decided to advertise for bids for a 1973 model.

THE wrecked cruiser had 80,000 miles on it and was scheduled for replacement in 1973 according to Sheriff Dwight Radcliff. Estimate to repair the wrecked vehicle was $1,400. The county does not insure the sheriff's cars for collision.

"I'm going to write a book—'Around the World in 14 Days'—because that's how long it would take us to make the trip," Superintendent John Henn commented today. The book probably will never be written, but this is Henn's way of noting the great increase in mileage the Logan Elm district has experienced in bus routing this year. The LE superintendent reported that daily mileage on the buses is 2,161 where in years past the record was just under 1,000 miles.

THE new bridge over the Norfolk and Western Railroad on the Circleville-Tarlton Road will be called Miller Station Bridge.

The name is derived from an old traction line stop when the "third rail" was a key transportation link from Chillicothe to Circleville to Columbus. Commissioner Charles Morris suggested the name and Dick Tootle and Wayne Hines agreed. The bridge is to be dedicated 10 a.m. Friday.

Tootle, chairman of the board of commissioners, today said the board hopes to continue naming new bridges and roads after historic landmarks to preserve the heritage of Pickaway County.

Man Charged After Wreck

Thomas F. Snyder, 20, Route 3, Mt. Sterling, was charged with reckless operation by Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Warren Straley after he lost control of his car on County Road 500 and knocked down fencing surrounding Pleasant Cemetery.

According to the report, Snyder was driving east on the road when he lost control. The car left tire marks on the paved surface for 192 feet in the passing lane. The vehicle then left the road into the left ditch for 96 feet and drove along 61 feet of chain link fence owned by Pleasant Cemetery trustees.

Neither Snyder, nor a passenger in his car, Steven Gordon, 17, Mt. Sterling, complained of injuries.

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Following is the Ohio weather summary from the National Weather Service:

A high continues to dominate weather in Ohio and the remainder of the eastern United States. A ridge of high pressure extended this morning from the New England coast to the Carolinas. The showers were generally north of Ohio, however, and fine autumn weather was forecast for the state today with sunny skies and highs in the 70s.

Generally good weather is expected again Wednesday with a chance of showers in the north as weak lows push eastward over the Great Lakes.

No major changes are expected before the weekend with mild weather persisting. Highs in the 70s and lows in the 50s should continue until then.

It was clear and cool over Ohio last night with lows ranging down to 43 degrees at Zanesville just before daybreak. Fog formed along river valleys in the southern part of the state.

Commanding Lead

Refusal of the United States to panic in the early days of the space effort keeps paying off in impressive terms. While Soviet Russia initially gained headlines with some seemingly spectacular exploits, America's more deliberate and broadly based space program built a solid body of scientific knowledge which keeps the U.S. far in the lead.

Little is heard now of the argument for crash programs in space at the expense of other forms of scientific and intellectual inquiry.

While admittedly technology is of inescapable importance in the world today, the humanities — art, history, literature, etc. — are equally a part of the full development of nation and people.

The same point can be made of the space program. The purpose of space science is not simply to launch vessels into the unknown, but to acquire useful knowledge and experience in the process. By way of comparison, an airline is not planned to reach a destination, but to create a means of transportation for people and goods.

In space, the goal is scientific exploration and the application of technical knowledge acquired in the process. That the U.S. has done so is evident in large measure. And almost nothing is heard of Soviet space efforts now.

Can Detector Lie?

Lie detectors frequently are resorted to in weeding out suspects in major crimes. Are such tests dependable?

What the lie detector measures is emotional responses to questions, and some of the worst people have no guilt or shame to be measured. When the CIA some years ago was reported to depend on lie detector tests in evaluating job applicants, one expert said it was misled.

One of the things the CIA was interested in was the sex life of potential employees. Homosexuals were considered bad job risks, for example, because of their susceptibility to blackmail. But, said the expert, the homosexual doesn't feel guilty about his sex life and may actually be proud of it. Others, with no deep feelings about anything, can similarly get by with flying colors.

That left the normal, all-American type of virile young man, who was embarrassed by questions. That led to official suspicion and ultimate rejection of the very people who would have been best on the job.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. released its quarterly statement a few days ago. While the results weren't what a food shopper might have guessed, they were exactly what competitors had forecast: A big loss.

This isn't the only food chain casualty either. The red ink is showing on the hides of a few other retailers also, as they too become caught up in the consumer-business-government in the battle to restrain rising food prices.

Few shoppers are aware of the vicious price competition that has now enveloped many food retailers and, furthermore, they hardly care except when it means a bargain to them. Most shoppers feel the bargains are too few.

This may be so, but the fact is that most chains now make less than one cent on each dollar of sales, and some earn less than one-half cent. A&P last year made one-quarter cent on each dollar.

The poor showing of A&P didn't develop overnight. For several years it has been caught in a sales-profit bind that it couldn't break. Outdated and poorly situated outlets, combined with hidebound ways, contributed.

The annual reports tell the story. In the fiscal year ended Feb. 28, 1970 the 4,200-store chain reported sales of $5.75 billion. A year later the figure was $90 million lower. And on Feb. 28 this year it fell to $5.51 billion.

Profits went the same way, from $53.3 million in 1970 to $50.1 million in 1971 to $14.6 million this year. Since February it has lost $41.6 million.

Not all chains have had the same poor fortune, and this fact has much to do with the fierce competition. Safeway Stores, Inc. pushed its profits up to $80.2 million in 1971 from $68.9 million a year earlier.

Safeway's sales volume probably is even more significant. In 1970 it reported sales of $4.9 billion. Last year the figure jumped to $5.36 billion. Volume this year is soaring, and Safeway has already made tentative claims to being America's No. 1 food retailer.

Thus goaded nationally and locally, A&P is counter-attacking. While its profits are down, its sales have turned. In the six months through August they rose 12.3 per cent to $3.1 billion, largely because of WEOS.

In May 1971 A&P opened an outlet in Pennsauken, N.J. that it called a Warehouse Economy Outlet, otherwise known by the acronym WEO. It was designed to sell fast-moving items at a low markup.

The lessons earned there were quickly applied to many other stores. The acronym was borrowed too, although it is now applied to the label "Where Economy Originates." Sometime this year all A&P stores will be WEOs.

In effect, A&P seems to believe it has magically derived wisdom from the absurd — that you can lose on every sale but make it up in volume. It is losing heavily, and doing so with enthusiasm, vigor and an unswerving dedication.

Clearly, it feels that immediate losses will be insignificant in comparison to long-term gains. If stores are made more efficient, if they accommodate critical consumers, if they offer real bargains, then customers should flock back. And they are.

A&P can afford to wage such a battle because, despite its troubles in recent years, its debt structure and cash position are extremely healthy. Quite likely it can absorb losses that would destroy smaller companies.

It is that latter possibility that could spring some repercussions for A&P even before it can completely carry out its plans. Some competitors are all but claiming A&P's practice constitutes unfair, maybe illegal, competition.

One, the Bohack Corp., based in New York, has called the big chain's moves desperate and it placed blame for its own losses on the larger chain's "cut-throat" practices.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH... by LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

So many low back injuries are due to bad judgment about lifting weights that numerous medical publications issue material on the techniques for sparing the back.

"Use your head and save your back" is a sage bit of medical advice. When one learns the simple rules of lifting unusual heavy weights, injuries to the back muscles and the spine can be obviated.

The following rules are important:

- (1) Look at the weight to be lifted, evaluate it, and if it seems larger than you can handle yourself, get help. Two backs are stronger than one.
- (2) Face the weight to be lifted.
- (3) Secure a firm footing with the feet properly spread.
- (4) Get a good grip on the load.
- (5) Bend the knees.
- (6) Keep a straight back, and lift by straightening the legs.
- (7) Don't lift suddenly. Rather do it gradually.
- (8) Don't twist your body while lifting.
- (9) Keep the weight close to your body.

Many people run into trouble in trying to display their prowess by attempting to lift an excessive weight. The back pays the penalty for not recognizing one's limitations.

Many months of painful incapacitation can be spared by following these sensible rules.

How often have you left the doctor's office and chastised yourself for having forgotten all the questions you had meant to ask? In your anxiety you might even have forgotten those answers you did receive.

The tension of being in a doctor's office is responsible for this distortion of communication between patients and physicians.

Sometimes, a patient feels somewhat guilty because he believes he is taking up too much time. This is false reasoning.

If a patient's questions are not completely answered, both the doctor and the patient are wasting considerable time. The questions must be repeated. The answers must be repeated.

It is much more time-saving if the patient thoroughly understands the condition, the nature of the treatment, and what can be expected of the drug that is prescribed.

Doctors know that when patients completely understand their condition they are more likely to follow their medical instructions completely.

It is sensible for the patient to write down his questions before he comes to the doctor's office, and then be certain that he listens to the answer.

Jotting down the doctor's answers firmly fixes the information in the patient's mind. Sometimes patients are so preoccupied with the next question that they fail to listen to the one that they have just asked.

Politics

By JEFFERY HART

In a recent column, I described the small world of chic liberalism as a kind of glass bubble. Inside the bubble, the chit-chat charms the inhabitants — but it has no discernible relationship to actuality. And, when you eavesdrop, some of the things you hear are, to put it mildly, startling.

Mary McCarthy is intelligent, lucid, articulate. She has four years been a prominent essayist and novelist. But alas, she has four years also been an inhabitant of the bubble, breathing its peculiar ozone. And listen to Miss McCarthy. As casually as she might reach for a canape, she suggests that what we need is a good revolution. Seriously.

Here she is, reviewing Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn's August 1914 in a recent Saturday Review. First of all, she does not much like the great Russian novelist's message. Solzhenitsyn admires the patriotism that made Russians volunteer to fight the Germans; he admires bravery under fire; he is religious. As Miss McCarthy concedes, he would not much have liked people such as, for example, herself.

"Solzhenitsyn himself, to say it straight out, is rude and unfair in his novel to a whole category of society: the 'liberals' and 'advanced circles' of 1914, those who opposed the war and patriotic sentiments, who yearned, they thought, for revolution, despised religion, authority, tradition, anything respected, handed down. He has it in for those people, just as he would have it in for you and me, if he could overhear us talking."

Solzhenitsyn, no inhabitant of the bubble, would not be amused by its chit-chat. And, worst of all, he takes a very dim view of revolution (perhaps because he has lived amid the results of one). But Miss McCarthy — and it would not cause a raised eyebrow inside the bubble, comes out four-square for a revolution here and now.

Solzhenitsyn, she writes, "is urging us to turn away from the terrible encircling trap of revolutionary ideology and take the safe course of gradualism and inch-by-inch social progress. Yet to trust in progress today, when no cure for the body politic but surgery is visible, seems old fashioned, almost simple minded. It would take a Rip van Winkle still to hope for gradual betterment through reforms."

Poor simple-minded old Solzhenitsyn! How much more titillating to call for surgery, for revolution, for the blood to flow, for mobs in the streets and marching troops! But she continues:

"Solzhenitsyn must be aware of this and aware also that 'reformist' is a term of vilification in the Soviet Union and not a banner to fight under anywhere, unless perhaps in some crusade for simplified spelling or an intramural church struggle."

So one gathers, Solzhenitsyn, is a hypocrite: he "must be aware" that we need a revolution, but still calls only for "reform." He is also moved by the fact that "reformist" is a term of vilification in the Soviet Union — though why he should give a hoot about that is a mystery. The commissars have called him worse things, after all. But what are we to make of all this? If we take it at face value, Mary McCarthy, who says she desires a revolution, is dumping on Solzhenitsyn, who clearly thinks revolutions a bad idea. But is it possible to take it all at face value?

The answer is, of course not. Miss McCarthy's sentiment have no bearing, no point of purchase, on American political and social actuality. Her call for revolution is really no more to than a verbal ploy, a signal to the like-minded — her friends inside the bubble — that Miss McCarthy belongs, that she, like them, is alienated from everything outside the bubble. The empty words merely renew her membership in the Cape Cod — Cambridge-Paris-Puec-Porche "revolutionary" cocktail circuit.

Museum Features Mountain Crafts

By GARY LUHR
Associated Press Writer
BEREA, Ky. (AP) — "Basically the early residents of Appalachia were skilled but they weren't craftsmen," Harry Segedy said as he walked past a varied array of early mountain artifacts.

"Unlike the pioneers, who were specialized in Appalachia each family was autonomous and had to be able to do a little of everything," he continued.

"It wasn't until after the 1900 crafts revival when they started to produce things for sale that they became more highly skilled as craftsmen."

Segedy, in the past three years, has become an authority on Appalachian history and culture. As director of Berea College's Appalachian Museum he spent two years sorting and cataloging more than 3,500 articles.

The result of his work went on display last year. Though only about one-fifth of the total collection currently can be seen in the small building that houses the museum, the exhibits comprise a representative sampling that, in Segedy's words, "tell a story."

"This is an interpretive museum," he says, "not just open storage."

An example of the manner in which the articles are displayed is the replica of a mountain cabin, where a student of the hill people can see examples of handmade furniture, textiles and household utensils in the type of setting where they actually were used.

Most of the exhibits were created out of the collection donated to the college in 1962 by the children of Edna Lynn Simms.

Mrs. Simms, a native of Kentucky, assembled her treasury over many years after moving to Knoxville. When the government began buying land for Great Smoky Mountains National Park during the 1920s, she traveled extensively through the region acquiring, for nominal amounts, items being disposed of by area residents as they moved away.

Recently the museum acquired and reconstructed a log smokehouse and workshop originally built more than a century ago in a hollow east of town. A search has begun.

Johnny Carson Marries Again

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Johnny Carson celebrated his tenth year as host of the NBC television "Tonight Show" by marrying Joanna Holland, 32. At a star-packed dinner Saturday night, Carson, 46, surprised friends by announcing his third marriage.

Carson was recently divorced from his second wife Joanne Carson. She was awarded an outright settlement of $200,000, alimony of $100,000 annually until she remarries and custody of their Yorkshire terrier, Mufin.

Wovoka, a Sioux Indian, led thousands of Indians in the "Ghost Dance" cult in 1890. Wovoka taught that the dance and social actuality. Her call would bring dead Indians back for revolution is really no more to Segedy said, to locate blacksmiths, candle makers, weavers and other craftsmen to give demonstrations inside the rebuilt structure.

"We hope to get them to teach our students some of their skills, at least enough so we can have the demonstrations on a regular basis," Segedy said.

The museum currently charges a modest admission price. There are those within the college, Segedy said, who would like to see the museum become more of a commercial attraction.

"That problem isn't unique at Berea," he said, "but if you do that you soon lose sight of a museum's historical and cultural value."

Authenticity is given priority in Segedy's plans for the museum's development. As he explained, "one of the purposes of the museum is to clear up some misconceptions about the people of Appalachia."

Opinions expressed in this column are those of the writers and not necessarily those of The Herald.

Dear Editor: I read with disbelief the article that appeared in the Herald on Wednesday, Sept. 27th, about area registration. What does the Board of Elections fear in opening registration to the people of Pickaway County? What happened to the idea that all people should have the right to vote? One might answer that this is not denying the right to vote.

However, it is making it harder for one to register, which is the prerequisite to voting. If registering is convenient and easy, why then in 1970 were only 15,015 registered out of a 23,714 who were eligible to vote? 10,000 unregistered is no laughing matter. When people are not registered, they can not vote. That is, the right to vote is taken away.

That is not democracy! I read and hear that other counties are able to carry out area registration with no apparent problems. Ross County had 22 locations on two separate days. Clinton County had a location set up in every township. Cuyahoga County is using shopping centers. Hamilton County has area registration, Franklin County, and so on. Why not us?

I hope that the rest of the population of this county will take the time to think about this and then ask what the real reason is that other counties feel area registration is necessary and why some people here feel that we do not need it.

Sincerely,
NANCY B. SPARKS

New Principal Praises WHS

Robert Debo, the new Westfall High School principal, was interviewed recently by Mustang Country.

Debo finds Westfall a little different from his former school. He was the principal last year at South Point High School in Lawrence County. It was a suburban school with a split session only involving the high school grades. Debo said that Westfall's split session is not as hard on school spirit as the split session at South Point which divided the high school.

The new principal compliments Westfall students on their well planned futures and their respectful dispositions. He thinks the students and teachers at Westfall are handling the split session very well. Although the new time schedule is hard on the parents in the community, he has had only one complaint. One disadvantage to the split session that has been noticed is the problem of time and space for club meetings.

Debo is very impressed with Westfall booster club. He commented that the parents' support in Westfall activities has helped the booster club survive even with all of its debts.

Debo wholeheartedly supports Westfall's band and football team. He stated that the team does a good job and will be the team to beat in a couple of years.

Control Board Frees Funds For Projects

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The State Controlling Board Monday rejected a proposal to provide lawbooks at seven correctional institutions for would-be inmate-lawyers who want to file their own appeals.

The board voted 4-3 against the idea, despite the fact that federal funds were available to pay the $86,739 cost of providing the lawbooks.

"I believe in rehabilitation, but to me this is a bit way out," said Sen. Douglas Applegate, D-30 Steubenville, the most vocal of board members opposed to the program.

He was joined in the negative vote by Sen. Harry Armstrong, D-17 Logan; Sen. Robert R. Shaw, R-16 Columbus, and Rep. Fred Young, R-84 Dayton.

Voting to approve the request were Board President Robert Baker and Reps. Mack Pemberton, R-61 Columbus, and John McCarthy, D-61 Youngstown.

In other business, the board made a total of $6.1 million available to help put the new Environmental Protection Agency into operation Oct. 22.

The board released $2.6 million for the agency's operation during the current fiscal year, and $336,401 to go with an earlier allocation of $205,000 to employ lawyers and a staff for the agency's environmental law division for the remainder of the biennium ending June 30.

In other actions, the board approved release of various amounts for improvements and construction at state-owned or affiliated colleges and universities. These included: —$25,000 for repairs to Ellis Hall at Ohio University. —$76,700 in planning funds for an Ohio University Science Complex.

Roses, Crown Are Queen Stephanie's

The 22nd of September was a night to remember for Miss Stephanie Neff for she was crowned Homecoming Queen 1972. She received a dozen of red roses in addition to her crown. Stephanie's court consisted of Jackie Houser, Ellie Linton, Sally Norris and Pam Williams.

A special area in the stands was decorated for this year's homecoming court. Here the girls had a perfect view of the game and half-time shows.

The following evening was the homecoming dance. The cafeteria and the study hall were decorated in various colors. Many silhouettes were painted on the windows. Refreshments were in the study hall with Mrs. Harry Linton and Mrs. Don McDill serving punch. A special thanks goes to both of these women and everyone making this homecoming an enjoyable one.

Brigner Leads Student Body

Dana Brigner is the 1972-73 student body president.

When asked how he likes school this year Dana replied, "A lot better, because it is my senior year." His interests are football, basketball, baseball, tractor pulls, and Stephanie Neff.

Dana thinks this year is a big improvement over last year. "Students' moral has improved as well as the teacher's attitudes toward the school. I think this year at Westfall will be a great one."

Debbie Krahn Is Round-Up Queen

On Sept. 4 the annual Westfall Mustang Round-up was held at Westfall's football field.

One of the evening's events was a contest for the pretty girls at Westfall. All girls in high school were eligible, yet only six girls entered the contest.

The 1972 Miss Mustang Queen was Debbie Krahn of Route 2 Williamsport. She was crowned by last year's queen, Cheryl Miller. First attendant was Penny Green and second attendant was Wilma Elliott. All three girls were part of the Saturday night parade at the Williamsport Sulfur Springs Festival.

When asked how she felt about the new title, Debbie replied, "I was surprised when I was crowned queen."

House Banking Panel Eyes Plan To Probe GOP Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid accusations of political motives, the House Banking Committee today considers whether to launch a full-blown investigation of Republican campaign finances and the break-in at Democratic headquarters.

Chairman Wright Patman, the Texas Democrat who wants his committee to conduct the inquiry, claimed the White House has pushed members to oppose it.

Rep. Garry Brown, the Michigan Republican who is fighting Patman's proposal and claims he has barely enough votes to defeat it, accused the chairman of "trying to get as much political play as possible."

Patman proposed that his committee enter the affair after several questions of banking practices arose in the aftermath of the June 17 break-in at Democratic national headquarters in Washington's Watergate complex. SALEM, Ohio (AP) — Mayor Emerson Smith has found a way to fire up Salem High School's football spirit and has the pep squad yelling "hot dog."

The squad wanted to hold an old-fashioned bonfire rally, but found new air pollution control laws standing in their way.

The mayor looked into the matter and learned that while a bonfire for a rally wasn't permitted, a fire for a wiener roast is okay. So he bought 400 hot dogs and the rally went on as planned, and Salem High went on to beat West Branch High 21-20.

Early Hours Described By Students

Recently students of Westfall High were asked "What do you think of the new school hours?" Here are some of the opinions received.

Susan H.-Now I can beat the chickens up.
Brenda S.-We're up each morning bright and early. We wake up all the neighborhood. They should start school at 10 a.m.; Boy, I wish they would!
Ann H.-I think it's a good idea, especially since we get out early.

Linda E.-They're not bad, but the junior high is still here.

Elle L.-I like them because I can get home earlier and the school is not as crowded.

Charlyn F.-I like getting out early, but not getting up early.

Geri F.-I like them 'cause the day goes quicker.

Mr. W.-I think it is nice. You can say good-night and good-morning at the same time.

Diane O.-School hours are fine if you don't mind getting up at 5 a.m.

Rose M.-I like it because it gives me a lot of time after school.

Wendy N.-It's okay, but it's hard to get your homework done.

John S.-I'm too tired to get in trouble.

Kevin H.-It's okay. Why not have all the afternoon to play? Early to bed, early to rise, makes a man healthy, wealthy, and... sleepy.

Chuck A.-It's great if you have an afternoon or evening job, but if you're out for a sport, it stinks.

Mary K.-I like it because I have plenty of time in the afternoon to get my homework done and do other things, too.

Jan L.-I like them. They're more challenging.

New Principal Praises WHS

Robert Debo, the new Westfall High School principal, was interviewed recently by Mustang Country.

Debo finds Westfall a little different from his former school. He was the principal last year at South Point High School in Lawrence County. It was a suburban school with a split session only involving the high school grades. Debo said that Westfall's split session is not as hard on school spirit as the split session at South Point which divided the high school.

The new principal compliments Westfall students on their well planned futures and their respectful dispositions. He thinks the students and teachers at Westfall are handling the split session very well. Although the new time schedule is hard on the parents in the community, he has had only one complaint. One disadvantage to the split session that has been noticed is the problem of time and space for club meetings.

Debo is very impressed with Westfall booster club. He commented that the parents' support in Westfall activities has helped the booster club survive even with all of its debts.

Debo whole-heartedly supports Westfall's band and football team. He stated that the team does a good job and will be the team to beat in a couple of years.

Roses, Crown Are Queen Stephanie's

The 22nd of September was a night to remember for Miss Stephanie Neff for she was crowned Homecoming Queen 1972. She received a dozen of red roses in addition to her crown. Stephanie's court consisted of Jackie Houser, Ellie Linton, Sally Norris and Pam Williams.

A special area in the stands was decorated for this year's homecoming court. Here the girls had a perfect view of the game and half-time shows.

The following evening was the homecoming dance. The cafeteria and the study hall were decorated in various colors. Many silhouettes were painted on the windows. Refreshments were in the study hall with Mrs. Harry Linton and Mrs. Don McDill serving punch. A special thanks goes to both of these women and everyone making this homecoming an enjoyable one.

Brigner Leads Student Body

Dana Brigner is the 1972-73 student body president.

When asked how he likes school this year Dana replied, "A lot better, because it is my senior year." His interests are football, basketball, baseball, tractor pulls, and Stephanie Neff.

Dana thinks this year is a big improvement over last year. "Students' moral has improved as well as the teacher's attitudes toward the school. I think this year at Westfall will be a great one."

Debbie Krahn Is Round-Up Queen

On Sept. 4 the annual Westfall Mustang Round-up was held at Westfall's football field.

One of the evening's events was a contest for the pretty girls at Westfall. All girls in high school were eligible, yet only six girls entered the contest.

The 1972 Miss Mustang Queen was Debbie Krahn of Route 2 Williamsport. She was crowned by last year's queen, Cheryl Miller. First attendant was Penny Green and second attendant was Wilma Elliott. All three girls were part of the Saturday night parade at the Williamsport Sulfur Springs Festival.

When asked how she felt about the new title, Debbie replied, "I was surprised when I was crowned queen."

House Banking Panel Eyes Plan To Probe GOP Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid accusations of political motives, the House Banking Committee today considers whether to launch a full-blown investigation of Republican campaign finances and the break-in at Democratic headquarters.

Chairman Wright Patman, the Texas Democrat who wants his committee to conduct the inquiry, claimed the White House has pushed members to oppose it.

Mrs. Ola Whaley, grandmother of the bride.

A reception at the American Legion Hall followed the ceremony.

A three-tiered wedding cake decorated with yellow and white daisies centered the bridal table. Two single yellow candles were placed on each side of the cake and greenery encircled the punch bowls at each end of the table. A yellow and white floral arrangement centered the guest table. The hall was decorated with wedding bells and streamers carrying out the color scheme. The Stoney's provided music for dancing and entertainment.

Hostesses were Mrs. Teresa Van Buskirk, sister of the groom; Miss Beverly Sowers, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Patty Edwards, Mrs. Elsie Whaley, and Mrs. Rosellen Garrett, aunts of the bride. By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Put the television set back in the kitchen, mother. Julia Child will stay on the air after all. At least until the end of March 1973.

Her show, "The French Chef," just got some badly needed bread — about $80,000, to be exact. Without it, her award-winning cooking secrets would have left public television by the end of this December.

The money came from the Polaroid Corp., which underwrote the show for three years before deciding this spring it would be unable to do it again during public television's 1972 fall season.

Its corporate change of heart ended a financial crisis that developed when no other company could be found to underwrite the proceedings in the child scullery.

"Boy was it ever in the nick of time," said David O. Ives, president of station WGBH in Boston, which produces the show for the Public Broadcasting Service.

He said the Polaroid renewal late last week came about 48 hours before a decision had to be made on whether to keep the show somehow struggling along or close it for good.

The main problem, he said, was not so much a lack of cash as a question of whether WGBH could commit already crowded production facilities for a show with a doubtful future.

The station had enough remaining to tape four new shows that would last through the end of this month. Then previous "Chef" episodes would be rerun until the end of December.

It turned out that many cooperations inquired about underwriting the show, but none was willing to sign on the dotted line after all was said and done. Restrictions against advertising may have been the reason.

No commercial advertising is permitted on the 223 PBS stations in the United States. Underwriters of PBS shows only are allowed to say they made them possible with a grant. Period.

With the timely arrival of fresh Polaroid money, Julia Child will continue her non-commercial cooking in a total of 12 or 13 new shows WGBH plans to make this year.

These shows and 13 reruns will keep her on the air through March.

Fair And Mild Weather Prevails

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fair and mild autumn weather dominated most of the nation today.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms moved out of the Northern Plains into the western Great Lakes region. Parts of Florida were washed late Monday with showers, and a few showers also developed in California.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 33 at Concord, N.H., to 82 at Phoenix, Ariz.

A major brush fire recently ate into the last sanctuary of the condor, the Los Padres National Forest in Southern California. Only about 60 condors live there, but most were off hunting in the higher mountains.

Man, 130, Recalls Civil War, Jesse James

BARTOW, Fla. (AP) — A tape recorder is taking down the memories of Charlie Smith, who says he first saw America from the decks of a slave ship 118 years ago and was a 21-year-old cowboy when President Lincoln freed the slaves.

"I am the oldest person alive, no question about it. I have crossed the sandy desert and I knew Jesse James," says Smith, who claims to be 130.

Smith is being interviewed by Kenneth Edison of Boston University's Martin Luther King Center because the old black man "has personally lived through a vast sweep of American history."

Charlie says he remembers clearly the summer when he was 12 and playing with some other boys on the beach in what is now Liberia.

"There was a boat tied to the dock, all gaily colored and what. My mother, she was making lard from fat, so we kids went up to the boat. This man came up and said there was 'fritter trees' on the boat."

"So some of us kids went on board and down into the bottom of the boat and there were fritters, with syrup all over them, hanging from this tree on the table," he says.

"When we went back up to the top of the ship we were out in the middle of the ocean. I never saw my mama again."

Smith says the boat landed in New Orleans, where he was purchased at a slave auction by a Texas rancher named Charlie Smith who gave the young slave his own name to replace the African name of M'icha.

Smith says he grew up near what is now the King Ranch near Galveston, Tex., where he learned how to be a cowboy.

When the Emancipation Proclamation was issued, Smith stayed on the ranch because "I didn't need to be freed. I'd been treated like a white man all my life."

The next 25 years are kind of hazy, but Smith says he traveled about the Southwest during the Civil War and during this time met the notorious outlaw Jesse James.

"I knew all of the James boys. It was James who taught me to shoot," he says, displaying his cowboy belt with the big golden buckle. "I carried a .44 caliber pistol until a few years ago, and I can still use one now if I have to."

Smith says he worked as a laborer in a Georgia woodmill and was recruited to work in a Florida turpentine camp "the year we were fighting Cuba" during the Spanish-American War of 1898.

A Social Security worker ran across him when he was 115, high in a tree picking oranges. The agency ran a check and found records confirming his sale in New Orleans and also found documentation of his life in Texas.

Smith now lives alone in his tiny "Charlie Smith's Soft Drink and Candy Store" in this community 40 miles east of Tampa.

A 70-year-old son lives nearby, and last spring the city gave him what he said was his first real birthday party, with a host of local dignitaries and U.S. Sen. Lawton Chiles in attendance.

His pleasures now are confined to a little wine every now and then and the company of people who drop by to hear the tales of "the oldest man alive."

Cincy Eyes Tough Air Pollution Law

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati City Council is considering an air pollution control ordinance that would include penalties of up to six months imprisonment and fines as high as $10,000 a day for certain violations.

City Manager E. Robert Turner submitted the proposal Monday and recommended passage.

The ordinance would regulate emissions from motor vehicles, including buses.

Open burning would be prohibited with exceptions granted by the superintendent of the air pollution control division here.

Sale of coal and liquid fuel with a sulfur content of more than one per cent would be banned. A license would be required for any sale of coal or liquid fuel.

Turner said the ordinance meets state and federal requirements. The ordinance was presented as a substitute for current air pollution regulations in the Cincinnati Building Code.

Questions Taxpayers Ask

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. I work at the school library for my room and board at college. Is this taxable?

A. In your situation it probably will be. The fair market value of the room and board should be added to any other income you have.

Room and board are not taxable if they are furnished on the employer's premises and for his convenience. In addition, acceptance of the lodging must be a condition of employment.

A. I purchased some stock on margin. Is the interest on the margin account deductible?

A. Yes. Interest on margin accounts is deductible for the year in which it is actually or constructively paid. This occurs only when a broker receives payment from you or makes collections for your account.

Such payments may consist of amounts received by the broker from the collection of dividends or interest for your account, the sale by you of securities held by the broker for you or to be received from you or your deposit of cash.

Q. I filed my income tax return months ago and still haven't received my refund. What should I do?

A. Write the Internal Revenue Service Center where you filed your return. Be sure to give your Social Security number, name, address, and when your return was filed. This information is needed to trace your return.

Is money given a maid for carfare subject to Social Security tax?

A. Yes. The Social Security tax applies to the total cash paid a household employee, even though some is paid for transportation.

Any person who has paid $50 or more cash wages in a calendar quarter to an employee for household services must file a Form 942, Employer's quarterly Tax Return for Household employees.

Dear Abby:

Lovebirds, Keep Johnny Out Tonight

DER ABBY: Ralph and I have been married for two years, and we are still very much in love but here's our problem: Ralph is "scheduling" what used to be our most beautiful and romantic moments, and I don't like it. He says, "No romance until after Johnny Carson."

—Abby, sometimes I don't want to stay up that late, because I have to be up at 6 a.m. sharp every day, but Ralph stays up to watch the whole show no matter who's on.

"I think he's being selfish, and he thinks I'm being stubborn. I'd like your opinion. And in case you think this is a gag, I'm signing my full name, but please don't use it. Sign me . . .

—DEAR ABBY: As a supervisor in a typing pool, I have consistently informed my girls that there is no such word as "reoccur," and the word should be "recur." Now to my horror, STATISTICIANS—These three Teays Valley High School seniors keep records of Viking football games for head coach Dick Kidwell. From the left are Bridget Haines, Liz Good, and Janice Glick. The picture was taken before the Blue and Gold's contest with Franklin Heights last Friday, about an hour before they were completely doused by a heavy rain.

Is Football A Man's Game? Ask Teays Valley High's Statisticians

By DAVE AMEY
Herald Staff Writer

What could a promising concert pianist, a minister's daughter who wants to be a policewoman, and a poetess have in common?

Well, they are all girls, 17, seniors at Teays Valley High School and quite pretty. They are also statisticians for the Viking football team.

The trio, who have worked every contest for the past two seasons, are Elizabeth Good, Bridget Haines and Janice Glick.

"We do it because its exciting and very enjoyable", they echoed in unison.

ACTUALLY, Miss Glick was asked last year by Miss Linda Warner, cheerleader advisor at the high school, to assist the team in this important job. She accepted and solicited the aid of Miss Good. Miss Haines later joined the group, a promotion from her job as record keeper for TV's freshman squad.

Bridget keeps the play-by-play on a large legal size pad. She must record each play and its outcome.

Liz is in charge of rushing yardage for each player on both teams.

Janice keeps the rest, including passing, all kicks, fumbles, interception, penalties and first downs.

They present summaries at half time to the coaching staff and then must give their totals to the news media following each game.

Final results are given to the coaching staff in time for the team's Saturday morning briefings.

NONE of the girls claimed much knowledge of the game prior to last year. An adviser was assigned to assist them in the first game they worked, but he was not around after that.

"We sort of picked it up ourselves."

Liz is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Medford Good, Route 1, Amanda. She plans to attend Capital University next football season and pursue studies in music.

She is a member of the Roundtown Players and is assisting Mrs. Clara Tegardin, musical director of the next production, "My Fair Lady."

Her brother, Roy, was a member of the Viking team last season.

Bridget is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Haines, Route 2, Ashville. Her future is undecided, but she likes poetry and is student director of the Viking class play this year.

HER brother Bruce was a Teays Valley grider last year.

Janice, who claims to like sports and aspires to be a policewoman, is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. John W. Glick, 81 Powell St., Ashville.

She portrays "Super Vike" at football pep rallies and keeps statistics for the track and cross country teams.

Her brother John played with Teays Valley two years ago.

All fun and games? Not really.

Last Friday, the Vikings beat Franklin Heights on the Columbus field 13-6 and the entire second half of the game was played in a sweeping rain storm.

AND did it rain, Liz and Bridget huddled under a borrowed umbrella after they were already soaked, still trying to keep track of every field movement.

Janice, who followed every play from the sidelines, still kept a record, although her paper eventually became as water-soaked as the field, and her pen would frequently stop writing.

But it is fun. The cheering after three Teays Valley wins this season, and the thrill of telling their friends exactly how the wins came about, is reward enough.

Highlights In World Of Sports

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Bill Fitch has changed his mind and now says he'll wait until after the next three exhibition games to cut the Cleveland Cavaliers roster to 12 players.

"No cuts, will be made before the trip," said Fitch, switching his earlier plan to trim the roster before the club departed this morning for New York and an exhibition game in Madison Square Garden with the Baltimore Bullets.

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Hales Princess took the lead in the back stretch to capture the featured eighth race at Lebanon Raceway Monday night by one length.

Covering the mile in 2:07 1-5, the winner paid $5.20, $3.40 and $3.20. Dena D Direct placed for $13.40 and $4.80 and showing was Deemed Worthy for $3.80.

A $15.20 daily double was registered on the combination of Tod Butler and L E Logan.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia 76ers have moved to strengthen their weak rebounding corps by acquiring 6-foot-10 center Dale Schlueter from the Portland Trail Blazers.

In exchange, the National Basketball Association team sent second-year guard Dave Wohl to Portland Monday.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — After testing his sore right elbow by throwing for five minutes, pitcher Steve Blass of the Pittsburgh Pirates said Monday he will be ready to pitch in the National League playoffs.

Marion Pleasant Takes Over Lead In Prep Grid Poll

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Here's how a statewide panel of sports writers and broadcasters rates Ohio high school football

AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION

Proposed by Initiative Petition

Text of the Proposed Constitutional Amendment

ARTICLE XII, Section 8: BE IT RESOLVED by the people of the State of Ohio: Laws may be passed providing for the taxation by the state or any political subdivision thereof of the incomes of (1) natural persons and (2) corporations, other business organizations and taxable entities, and any such tax shall be at a non-graduated rate within each of the two classifications, and may be applied to such incomes as may be determined by law. Provided, however, that with the exception of investments in intangible personal property, no law shall be enacted by the General Assembly and no existing or future law shall be enforced by the courts of this state or subdivision thereof imposing, collecting, or otherwise levying any tax on, or measuring any tax by, income of natural persons, corporations, or other business organizations and taxable entities or increasing the rates thereof, such tax or increase is approved by at least a majority of the electors of the state or of the subdivision voting on such proposition. Nothing contained herein shall prevent the collection of, or the enforcement of the law relating to, any tax liability which has accrued prior to the effective date of this section.

The questions of such a tax on incomes or increase in the rate thereof shall be submitted at a general election to the electors of this state or of the subdivision for their approval or rejection in a manner provided by law. Provided further, however, that this section shall not deprive the authority of municipalities, subject to the provisions of Section 6, Article XIII and Section 1, Article XIV of this Constitution, to impose, collect, or otherwise levy any tax on, or to measure any tax by, income of natural persons, corporations, or other business organizations and taxable entities, or to increase the rates thereof.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT If approved by the voters at the November election, the amendment to Ohio's constitution would greatly improve the opportunity of the public to participate in the decision as to how and how much, it is to be taxed. For the first time, the public would have the right to vote on taxation and government spending at the state level.

The law already guarantees the public this right of control at the local level in the field of real estate taxes and municipal income taxes. If approved, the constitution would then provide that the rate of state income taxation must be the same for all natural persons. The constitution already requires that the rate and valuation for property taxes must be the same for all taxpayers.

The amendment would provide for income taxation based upon ability to pay; that is, the greater a taxpayer's income, the more tax he would pay; the smaller a taxpayer's income, the less tax he would pay. A "YES" vote on the issue is necessary to accomplish the following:

- (1) Prohibit collection of the present income and income-related tax;
- (2) Give the public the right to vote on any proposed income tax in the future (except municipal tax);
- (3) Require public approval before any proposed increase of any such tax could take effect.

The effect, if any, which approval of the constitutional amendment might have on current state expenditures will be permanent part of Ohio's constitution; neither governor nor legislature, now or in the future, can ever take away from the people.

The November election may be the last chance that Ohioans ever get to control a runaway spending at the state level. Committee for the Amendment: Chester T. Cruise, Robert E. Levitt, Joseph P. Tuller, Raymond P. Luther, Howard A. Knight.

ARGUMENT IN OPPOSITION TO PROPOSED AMENDMENT Vote NO on Issue 2.

Approving Issue 2 with just YOU, ISSUES 2 WILL CAUSE OTHER PROPOSED AMENDMENTS AND 10 PER CENT PROPERTY TAX REDUCTION.

Loss of the real estate tax reductions the corporate and personal income taxes made possible would cost homeowners who are over 64 years of age an average of as much as 50 per cent of their property taxes and would take away all that has been paid to the real estate tax rollback.

ISSUE 2 WILL CAUSE OTHER NEW AND INCREASED TAXES FOR INDIVIDUALS. Supporters of Issue 2 don't want reduced spending. They want to shift the burden of taxation from the wealthy to the average taxpayer by a flat income tax which would DOUBLE taxes for families earning $9,000 or less and would reduce taxes ONLY for families earning over $18,000.

ISSUE 2 WILL CAUSE HIGHER TAXES FOR THE SMALL BUSINESSMAN. High-profit corporations would save about $150 million if Issue 2 passes. A flat-rate income tax for all businesses including partnerships and proprietorships, would force all businesses to pay the same rate.

ISSUE 2 WILL REDUCE STATE SUPPORT TO YOUR COMMUNITY. Don't vote for a pie-in-the-sky. If the income tax is repealed it must either be replaced by a FLAT-RATE INCOME TAX, INCREASES IN REAL ESTATE TAXES, CITY INCOME TAXES, SALES TAXES, TIRETIONS, or the current state aid must decrease for: CITIES, COUNTIES, AND TOWNSHIPS; SCHOOLS AND UNIVERSITIES; MENTAL HEALTH; HOSPITALS — PUBLIC ASSIST.

CLEAN AIR AND WATER. ISSUE 2 WILL REIMBURSE FIREMEN AND JUSTICE IN OHIO'S TAX SYSTEM.

Issue 2 permits only a flat-rate income tax like the city income tax; it eliminates the principle that Ohio voters adopted in 1912, that income taxes be based on ability to pay.

DON'T BE MISLED INTO PAYING MORE THAN YOUR FAIR SHARE FOR GOVERNMENT. Vote NO on Issue 2.

Committee against the Amendment: William W. Taft, James J. Flannery, Oliver Ocasnik, E. W. Lamson.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA STATE OF OHIO OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE

I, TED W. BROWN, Secretary of State of the State of Ohio, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of the text of a proposed constitutional amendment initiated by petition, together with arguments for its adoption and arguments against its adoption, filed in the Office of the Secretary of State, and proposing to amend the above Section of the Constitution of Ohio.

I have hereunto affixed my name and affixed my official seal at Columbus the twenty-fourth day of September.

WHEREAS, this Council by Ordinance No. 823, duly passed on September 13, 1969, authorized the issuance of notes in the aggregate principal amount of $220,000 for the purpose stated hereinafter which notes were renewed by the issuance of notes in like principal amount, authorized by Ordinance No. 846, passed September 14, 1970 and by Ordinance No. 868 passed September 20, 1971, which notes are about to mature; and

WHEREAS, the improvements for which said notes have been issued are not yet completed and this Council finds it is necessary to renew such outstanding notes at this time in a reduced principal amount after application of moneys on hand to retire a portion of the principal of the outstanding notes in lieu of said bonds; and

WHEREAS, the Clerk has certified that the estimated life and usefulness of the property and improvements contemplated is at least five years, and has further certified that the maximum maturity of bonds calculated in accordance with Section 133.20 of the Revised Code of Ohio, as forty years and of notes, five years from the date of issuance of the original bonds publicly, or one year, if sold privately;

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the Council of the Village of Ashville, Pickaway County, Ohio:

Section 1. That it is necessary to issue bonds of the Village of Ashville in the principal sum of $215,000 to pay costs of improving and enlarging the waterworks system of the Village by constructing water treatment and storage facilities together with water lines and all necessary appurtenances.

Section 2. That said bonds shall be dated approximately October 1, 1973, shall bear interest at the estimated rate of five and one-half per centum (5½ per cent) per annum, payable semi-annually, until the principal sum is paid, and shall mature in twenty-five substantially equal annual installments after their issuance.

Section 3. That for the purpose of raising money in anticipation of the issuance of said bonds, it is hereby declared necessary to issue and there shall be issued notes of the Village in the aggregate principal amount of $215,000. Such notes shall be issued in a series and in such manner and denominations as determined by the Council, and shall be dated October 20, 1972; shall bear interest at the rate of four and one-half (4½ per cent) per centum per annum, payable at maturity; and shall mature on October 19, 1973.

Section 4. Such notes shall be executed by the Mayor and Clerk-Treasurer and bear the seal of the corporation. They shall be payable at the office of the Clerk-Treasurer, Village Hall, Ashville, Ohio, and shall express upon their faces the purpose for which they are issued and that they are issued pursuant to this ordinance.

Section 5. Said notes shall be first offered to the Clerk-Treasurer as officer in charge of the Bond Retirement Fund, and, if not taken by said fund, hereby awarded and sold to Roose Wade & Company for not less than par value thereof; and the proceeds from such sale, except any premium thereon, shall be paid into the proper fund and used for the purpose aforesaid and for no other purpose, and the purpose of said money is hereby appropriated. Any premium shall be transferred to the Bond Retirement Fund to be applied in the payment of principal and interest of said notes in the manner provided by law.

Section 6. Said notes shall be the full and complete obligations of the Village and the full faith, credit and revenue of said Village are hereby pledged for the prompt payment of the same. The par value to be received from the sale of said bonds and said notes shall not be less than the par value of the same, and shall be received from the sale of said bonds and said notes to the extent necessary to be used for the retirement of said notes at maturity, together with the interest thereon, and is hereby pledged for such purpose.

Section 7. During the year or years while such notes run there shall be levied on all the taxable property in said Village in addition to all other taxes a direct tax annually not less than that which would have been levied if bonds had been issued therefor without the prior issue of said notes. Said tax shall be and is hereby ordered compounded, levied, and extended upon the tax duplicate and collected by the same officers, in the same manner and at the same time that taxes for general purposes for each of said years are certified and collected. Said tax shall be placed before and in reference to all other items and for the full amount thereof. The note derived from only tax levied hereby required shall be placed in a separate and distinct fund, which, together with the interest collected on the same, shall be irrevocably pledged for the payment of the principal and interest of said notes or the bonds in anticipation of which they are issued when and as the same fall due, provided, however, that in each year to the extent that the income from the waterworks system is available for the payment of such notes and bonds and is appropriated for such purpose the amount of such tax shall be reduced by the amount of such income so available and appropriated.

Section 8. It is hereby determined and recited that all acts, conditions and things necessary to be done, precedent to and in the issuing of said notes in order to make them legal valid and binding obligation of the Village of Ashville, have been done and performed in regular and due form as required by law; and

Woody Not Giving Up On Fullbacks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — With the excitement of Archie Griffin's historic tailback performance fading, Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes said he hasn't forsaken the Buckeyes' famed fullback attack.

"We'll run the fullbacks more this week and still run the ball inside," Hayes predicted Monday as Ohio State began preparations for the game Saturday at California.

The fullbacks were used primarily as blockers while Griffin, a hometown freshman, galloped in the open field for a school record 239 yards in a 29-14 victory last week over North Carolina.

Griffin's rushing broke the 27-year-old, one game mark of 229 yards set by Ollie Cline against Pittsburgh, prompting Cline to call Hayes Monday.

"He wanted to know how to get hold of Archie to congratulate him" the Ohio State coach explained.

"More important than the record was the way Archie fired up the ball club," said Hayes. "It's amazing how one man can be the catalyst for a team. We were running the same plays before he came and weren't doing a thing."

that no limitation of indebtedness or taxation, either statutory or constitutional, will have been exceeded in the issuance of said notes.

Section 9. It is hereby certified that it is expected that all of the proceeds of the issue of said notes will be used in a manner that would cause such notes to be arbitrage bonds under Section 103(d) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended and valid regulations thereunder, and further, that all of the proceeds of such notes are needed for the purpose for which they are hereby authorized to be issued, and that the proceeds therefrom have been or will be promptly committed to such purpose through binding obligations of all issue of such notes, and which are current operating expenses, and any such proceeds will be invested or deposited only for a temporary period until needed for the purpose for which the notes are issued; and that this certification is based upon all the relevant facts and circumstances in existence, including those more particularly to be set forth and the certificate of the fiscal officer, entitled "IRC 103 (d) Certificate" which shall be incorporated in the transcript of proceedings pertaining to said notes and which is adopted and incorporated herein by reference. The Village consents to the purchasers of said notes that it will make use of the proceeds of said notes which, if such use had been reasonably expected on the date of issue of such notes, would have caused them to be arbitrage bonds under Section 103(d) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended.

Section 10. The Clerk-Treasurer is hereby directed to forward a certified copy of this ordinance to the County Auditor.

Section 11. This ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety of said Village, and for the further reason that the immediate sale of said notes is necessary to enable the Village to retire said outstanding notes and thus protect the credit of the Village; wherefore, this ordinance shall be in effect immediately upon its passage.

AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION

Proposed by Initiative Petition
text of the Proposed Constitutional Amendment
ARTICLE XII, Section 8:
BE IT RECALLED by the people of the State of Ohio: Laws may be passed providing for the taxation by the state or any political subdivision thereof of the incomes of both (1) natural persons and (2) corporations, other business organizations and taxable entities, and any such tax shall be at a non-graduated rate within each of the two classifications, and may be applied to such incomes as may be designated by law. Provided, however, that with the exception of investments in intangible personal property, no law shall be enacted by the General Assembly and no existing or future law shall be enforced by any officer of this state or subdivision thereof imposing, collecting, or otherwise levying any tax on, or measuring income tax by, income of natural persons, corporations, or other business organizations and taxable entities, or to increase the rate of such tax, unless at least a majority of the electors of the state or of the subdivision voting on such proposition. Nothing contained herein shall prevent the collection of, or the enforcement of the law relating to, any tax liability which has accrued prior to the effective date of this section.

The question of such a tax on incomes or increase in the rates thereof shall be submitted at a general election to the electors of this state or of the subdivision for their approval or rejection in a manner provided by law.

Provided further, however, that this section shall not affect the authority of municipalities, subject to the provisions of Section 4, Article XIII and Section 11, Article XVII of this Constitution to impose, collect, or otherwise levy any tax on, or measure income tax by, income of natural persons, corporations, or other business organizations and taxable entities, or to increase the rate of such tax, unless at least a majority of the electors of the state or of the subdivision voting on such proposition.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT

It appeared in the November election, the proposed amendment to Ohio's constitution would greatly improve the opportunity of the public to participate in the decision as to how and how much, it is to be taxed. For the first time, the public would have the right to vote on taxation and government spending at the state level.

The law already guarantees the public this right of control at the local level in the field of real estate taxes and municipal income taxes. If approved, the constitution would then provide that the rate of state income taxation must be the same for all natural persons. The constitution already requires that the rate and valuation for property taxes must be the same for all taxpayers.

The amendment would provide for income taxation based upon ability to pay; that is, the greater a taxpayer's income, the more tax he would pay; the smaller a taxpayer's income, the less tax he would pay.

A "YES" vote on the issue is necessary to accomplish the following:
(1) Prohibit collection of the present income and income-related tax;
(2) Give the public the right to vote on any proposed income tax in the future (except municipal tax);
(3) Require public approval before any proposed increase of any such tax could take effect.

The effect, if any, which approval of the constitution would have on current state expenditures will only last for six months. But the control by the public over excessive state government spending will be a permanent part of Ohio's constitution that neither governor nor legislator can ever take away from the people.

The November election may be the last chance for Ohioans ever get to control this runaway spending at the state level.

Committee for the Amendment:
Chester T. Curre, Robert E. Levitt, Joseph P. Tully, Raymond P. Luther, Howard A. Knight.

ARGUMENT IN OPPOSITION TO PROPOSED AMENDMENT

Vote NO on Issue 2:
ISSUE 2 WILL REMOVE THE HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION AND 10 PER CENT PROPERTY TAX REDUCTION.

Loss of the real estate tax reductions the corporate and personal income taxes made possible would cost homeowners who are over 64, yearly tax savings amounting to as much as 50 per cent of their property taxes and would take away all other tax breaks 10 per cent real estate tax roll-back.

ISSUE 2 WILL CAUSE OTHER NEW AND INCREASED TAXES FOR INDIVIDUALS.

Supporters of Issue 2 don't want reduced spending. They want to shift the burden of taxation from the wealthy to the average taxpayer by a flat income tax which would DOUBLE taxes for families earning $9,000 or less and would reduce taxes ONLY for families earning over $10,000.

ISSUE 2 WILL CAUSE HIGHER TAXES FOR THE SMALL BUSINESSMAN.

High-profit corporations would save about $150 million if Issue 2 passes. A flat-rate income tax on all businesses, including partnerships and proprietorships, would force all businesses to pay the same rate.

ISSUE 2 WILL REMOVE STATE SUPPORT TO YOUR COMMUNITY. Don't vote for a one-size-fits-all income tax if it means the loss of the income tax which is the only source of revenue for many of our cities, counties, and townships.

SCHOOLS AND UNIVERSITIES: SPENTIAL HEALTH: HOSPITALS — PUBLIC ASSISTANCE.

CLEAN AIR AND WATER.

ISSUE 2 WILL DESTROY THE FAIRNESS AND JUSTICE IN OHIO'S TAX SYSTEM.

Issue 2 permits only a flat-rate income tax like the city income tax; it eliminates the principle that Ohio voters adopted in 1912 that income taxes be based on ability to pay.

DON'T BE MISLED INTO PAYING MORE THAN YOUR FAIR SHARE FOR GOVERNMENT.

Vote NO on Issue 2. Committee against the Amendment: William W. Taft, James J. Lannan, Oliver Oakes, E. W. Plannan.

New Class Is Authorized At Saltcreek Elementary

A solution to crowding problems in one classroom at Saltcreek School was presented by the Logan Elm Board of Education in its meeting Monday night.

District enrollment currently stands at 2,367, LE Superintendent John Henn reported. One particular problem in classroom size, experienced at Saltcreek, was offered a solution when board members authorized formation of an additional classroom. It will consist of 12 fifth graders at Saltcreek, to alleviate overcrowding in that grade, and eight students from the fourth grade class. These students will be assigned to another teacher already in the district's employ.

Verification was made on contracts of seven teachers who were employed by the Laurelville Board in April. Logan Elm has these teachers in its employ, and in action Monday night, clarified their employment with the combined district by offering extended contracts similar to those approved by Laurelville last spring. Recipients of these contracts were: Dorothy McClellan and Clayton Stahr, five years; Charles Dean and Daniel DeLong Jr., three years; Ronald Hoffman, Lynn Straley and Susan Byers, two years.

provided with information on what sort of injuries to expect and to permit hospital doctors to monitor a patient's vital signs.

Less than 7 per cent of the nation's ambulances can communicate with hospitals, according to HEW.

And once at the hospital, there is no guarantee of prompt, top-notch care. The American Hospital Association reported that about half the nation's hospitals do not have a basic capability for emergency care.

The American College of Surgeons' suggested standards for emergency departments call for every patient to be seen by a doctor within 15 minutes.

The standards also suggest that every emergency department be open 24 hours a day and that a doctor see every patient.

But the American Hospital Association found that only 17 percent of the hospitals with emergency rooms are staffed by a doctor on duty 24 hours a day.

Congress is seeking a remedy. The House Monday passed a bill authorizing $255 million for federal help in planning and coordinating programs of emergency care and providing grants for research and training. Last month the Senate approved a bill authorizing HEW to set standards for emergency care and spend $300 million over three years to help hospitals and governments that measure up.

Authorization for $20 million in aid to hospital emergency rooms has been on the books for two years, but Congress has yet to appropriate the money.

The Nixon administration opposes the latest legislation, contending improvement of emergency service is a state and local responsibility.

The American College of Surgeons has praised ambulance service in Seattle, Houston, Los Angeles, Miami and Jacksonville, Fla. The number of deaths per accident victim has dropped by 38 per cent in Jacksonville since the city upgraded its service, which is provided by the fire department.

But nationwide, the Department of Transportation told Congress it has not designated any state as meeting all the standards set for emergency medical services five years ago. On its annual state-by-state report card for compliance with various federal highway safety standards, three states rated zero out of 100 and nine rated 25 or less.

Arkansas, Indiana and West Virginia had the zero ratings. The states rated 25 or less were Alaska, Connecticut, Hawaii, Idaho, Kansas, Michigan, Missouri, New York and Tennessee.

dents for the vocational program of the Pickaway-Ross joint district. Its purchase was authorized.

An adult agriculture education course will be held in the Logan Elm district this year in conjunction with the Young Farmers Organization.

Present at the meeting were board members Mrs. Carolyn McCoy, Mrs. Wood, Bower and Hobbie, plus Superintendent Henn, County Superintendent Edward Martin and two visitors, Clayton Stahr and Dennis Ziegler, students of administrative studies at Xavier University and employees of the LE district.

ments after they returned to America. Others didn't.

The antiwar rhetoric came thick and fast. Wilbur has met with other visiting groups and he repeated what he had said then.

"Tell my wife and family you have seen me. Tell her to use every facility to help you and the antiwar movement," he said. "Tell her I am working at this end."

Lt. Peter Callahan, firm Bellmore, New York, said, "I don't know how you can talk with my wife without giving her mental anguish in choosing between the peace movement and the government. If there is ever a group of men here by the government, then here we sit."

Then there were the personal asides. Callahan said he was shot down on June 21 this year, and at the time his wife was nine months pregnant. She has made no reference to it in her letters. "Am I a father or aren't I?" he wanted to know.

Lt. Donald Karl Logan of Northridge, Calif., said, "Tell my wife to stop typing her name at the end of her letters. Tell her to write it out so I know it's her."

"Say hi to Patty for me," said bachelor Air Force Lt. Greg Hanson, from Thousand Oaks, Calif., in a personal message.

"Just don't play games with the packages," said Lt. Richard Fulton, from Mesa, Ariz., when told by the visitors of North Vietnamese charges that spying devices were being sent into the camps from America.

Capt. David Hoffman, from San Diego, Calif., mentioned the names of several other POWs and said, "Those people have not received any mail from their families since the day they were shot down."

Ohio Bell Says Rate Increase Is Justified

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio Bell Telephone Co. official told the Public Utilities Commission Monday the company "has a convincing case for every dollar applied for" in its proposed $165 million rate hike.

Dean Ostrum, vice president and legal counsel for the company, was among 13 witnesses called by Ohio Bell before the PUCO hearing recessed until today.

"The plain fact is that increasing costs, wage bills and taxes have made extremely serious inroads into . . . earnings," Ostrum said.

"There is, unfortunately, no remedy short of substantial rate increases if the company is to overcome the effect of past inflation on its business."

Ohio Bell, which serves all of areas except Cincinnati, is seeking an increase that would permit it to earn an 8.6 per cent rate of return. It would amount to about a 38 per cent hike in basic monthly rates.

More than a dozen Ohio communities requested and were granted permission to intervene, along with representatives of private industry and the U.S. Department of Defense on behalf of federal government agencies with offices in Ohio.

Cities allowed to intervene included Akron, Canton, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton, Toledo, Struthers, Springfield and Massillon.

Company witnesses said Monday Ohio Bell's last increase of about 14 per cent went into effect in April, 1970, and was the firm's first in 12 years.

Gasoline Tax Increase Dead

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A controversial bill to raise Ohio's gasoline tax from seven to nine cents a gallon will die in the 109th General Assembly.

Sen. Michael Maloney, R-7, Cincinnati, chairman of the Senate Ways and Means Committee, said Monday he will conduct no hearings on the measure this year.

"It seems to me there have been enough tax increases in this session," he said. "I can see no justification in even hearing a 22 per cent increase in gasoline taxes on the heels of enactment of a personal and corporate income tax."

The current legislature returns for floor sessions about the middle of November, but goes out of business when the 110th General Assembly convenes New Year's Day.

Freed POW Plans Work To Free Others Still Held

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"I believed in my country and I still believe in it. That's why I went to war," says Navy Lt. (j.g.) Norris Charles. "But I've done some more thinking."

Charles, one of three American officers freed by North Vietnam two weeks ago, told a news conference Monday that he would work for the end of the war and the release of the POWs "in uniform or out."

"It's my belief that these men will be returned as soon as the war is terminated," he said in San Diego, Calif., as he left the Balboa Naval Hospital after a three-day stay.

He did not elaborate on how he thought the war should be ended or detail his own plans beyond saying that he did not plan to join any antiwar group or endorse a presidential candidate.

Like the two other freed pilots—Navy Lt. Markham Gartley and Air Force Maj. Edward K. Elias—Charles had been hospitalized since his return undergoing medical tests and debriefing.

Although he lost 16 pounds during his 8½ months in prison, doctors say Charles is in good health. He said his treatment in North Vietnam was "pretty good" and medical care was "very adequate."

Charles, who lives in San Diego, was a radar officer in a fighter plane when he was shot down over North Vietnam last Dec. 30. In prison camp, Charles said, he "read up on a lot of issues."

"You read books published in America about the war, Russian philosophy, American philosophy. You were allowed to draw your own conclusions. A lot of POWs have different views," he said.

After the news conference Charles, his wife Olga, and their daughter Kirsten went home. Signs on the house put up by neighbors read, "Welcome Home Mr. Charles" and "We all love you Charles."

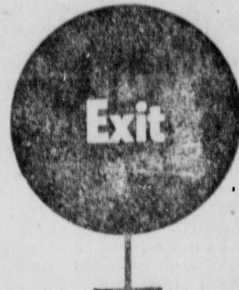

In Jacksonville, Fla., military intelligence personnel continued debriefing Lt. Gartley about his four years in North Vietnamese prisons.

New Class Is Authorized At Saltcreek Elementary

A solution to crowding problems in one classroom at Saltcreek School was presented by the Logan Elm Board of Education in its meeting Monday night.

District enrollment currently stands at 2,367, LE Superintendent John Henn reported. One particular problem in classroom size, experienced at Saltcreek, was offered a solution when board members authorized formation of an additional classroom. It will consist of 12 fifth graders at Saltcreek, to alleviate overcrowding in that grade, and eight students from the fourth grade class. These students will be assigned to another teacher already in the district's employ.

Verification was made on contracts of seven teachers who were employed by the Laurelville Board in April. Logan Elm has these teachers in its employ, and in action Monday night, clarified their employment with the combined district by offering extended contracts similar to those approved by Laurelville last spring. Recipients of these contracts were: Dorothy McClellan and Clayton Stahr, five years; Charles Dean and Daniel DeLong Jr., three years; Ronald Hoffman, Lynn Straley and Susan Byers, two years.

Standard changes, adopted by all county schools, were made in the school calendar at Logan Elm. This will allow students a holiday Oct. 19 and 20, while teachers attend workshops and visit other schools, and again Nov. 10, the date of the Central Ohio teachers Assn. annual meeting.

THE board decided more open communication was needed between the schools and community, so they authorized a monthly newsletter be sent out all over the district. Mrs. Virginia Wood accepted responsibility of producing the initial editions, the first planned for printing in November.

Superintendent John Henn noted that mileage for school buses in the district this year had more than doubled and now district buses were recording a total of 2,161 miles each day. In the past, the total daily mileage was under 1,000.

It was agreed to participate in the Right to Read ESEA project.

The board okayed the absence of Dorothy Hamrick on Nov. 6 to 10 to attend the National County Agriculture Agents Conference in Georgia with her husband. The standard deduction for absence will apply.

Attendance at professional meetings was authorized for Dow West and three board members. West will attend the annual Ohio Assn. of Secondary School Principals meeting Oct. 16 and 17 in Columbus. Mrs. Virginia Wood, Roger Hobbie and Donald Bower are to be representatives at the Ohio School Boards Association joint conference in Columbus.

Permission was given to hold a political meeting at the Laurelville school.

A COST of $750 was estimated for the necessary equipment and materials for screening students.

Manager Sentenced

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — A former state liquor store manager, convicted on an embezzlement charge, has been sentenced to 90 days in jail and placed on probation for five years.

Judge Arthur Fiehrer of Butler County Common Pleas Court meted the sentence Monday to Clifford Warmouth, 29, of nearby Carlisle. He also ordered Warmouth to make restitution of $4,080 to the state store he managed in nearby Middletown.

Ohio Bell Says Rate Increase Is Justified

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio Bell Telephone Co. official told the Public Utilities Commission Monday the company "has a convincing case for every dollar applied for" in its proposed $165 million rate hike.

Dean Ostrum, vice president and legal counsel for the company, was among 13 witnesses called by Ohio Bell before the PUCO hearing recessed until today.

"The plain fact is that increasing costs, wage bills and taxes have made extremely serious inroads into earnings," Ostrum said.

"There is, unfortunately, no remedy short of substantial rate increases if the company is to overcome the effect of past inflation on its business."

Ohio Bell, which serves all of areas except Cincinnati, is seeking an increase that would permit it to earn an 8.6 per cent rate of return. It would amount to about a 38 per cent hike in basic monthly rates.

More than a dozen Ohio communities requested and were granted permission to intervene, along with representatives of private industry and the U.S. Department of Defense on behalf of federal government agencies with offices in Ohio.

Cities allowed to intervene included Akron, Canton, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton, Toledo, Struthers, Springfield and Massillon. Company witnesses said Monday Ohio Bell's last increase of about 14 per cent went into effect in April, 1970, and was the firm's first in 12 years.

Rip Poor . . .

provided with information on what sort of injuries to expect and to permit hospital doctors to monitor a patient's vital signs.

Less than 7 per cent of the nation's ambulances can communicate with hospitals, according to HEW.

And once at the hospital, there is no guarantee of prompt, top-notch care. The American Hospital Association reported that about half the nation's hospitals do not have a basic capability for emergency care.

The American College of Surgeons' suggested standards for emergency departments call for every patient to be seen by a doctor within 15 minutes.

The standards also suggest that every emergency department be open 24 hours a day and that a doctor see every patient.

But the American Hospital Association found that only 17 percent of the hospitals with emergency rooms are staffed by a doctor on duty 24 hours a day.

Congress is seeking a remedy. The House Monday passed a bill authorizing $255 million for federal help in planning and coordinating programs of emergency care and providing grants for research and training. Last month the Senate approved a bill authorizing HEW to set standards for emergency care and spend $300 million over three years to help hospitals and governments that measure up.

Authorization for $20 million in aid to hospital emergency rooms has been on the books for two years, but Congress has yet to appropriate the money.

The Nixon administration opposes the latest legislation, contending improvement of emergency service is a state and local responsibility.

The American College of Surgeons has praised ambulance service in Seattle, Houston, Los Angeles, Miami and Jacksonville, Fla. The number of deaths per accident victim has dropped by 38 per cent in Jacksonville since the city upgraded its service, which is provided by the fire department.

But nationwide, the Department of Transportation told Congress it has not designated any state as meeting all the standards set for emergency medical services five years ago. On its annual state-by-state report card for compliance with various federal highway safety standards, three states rated zero out of 100 and nine rated 25 or less.

Arkansas, Indiana and West Virginia had the zero ratings. The states rated 25 or less were Alaska, Connecticut, Hawaii, Idaho, Kansas, Michigan, Missouri, New York and Tennessee.

DOT can cut off aid to states which don't measure up, but has never used the power.

Antiwar . . .

ments after they returned to America. Others didn't.

The antiwar rhetoric came thick and fast. Wilbur has met with other visiting groups and he repeated what he had said this end."

"Tell my wife and family you have seen me. Tell her to use every facility to help you in the antiwar movement," he said. "Tell her I am working at this end."

Lt. Peter Callahan, from Bellmore, New York, said, "I don't know how you can talk with my wife without giving her mental anguish in choosing between the peace movement and the government. If there is ever a group of men duped by the government, then here we sit."

Then there were the personal asides. Callahan said he was shot down on June 21 this year, and at the time his wife was nine months pregnant. She has made no reference to it in her letters. "Am I a father or aren't I?" he wanted to know.

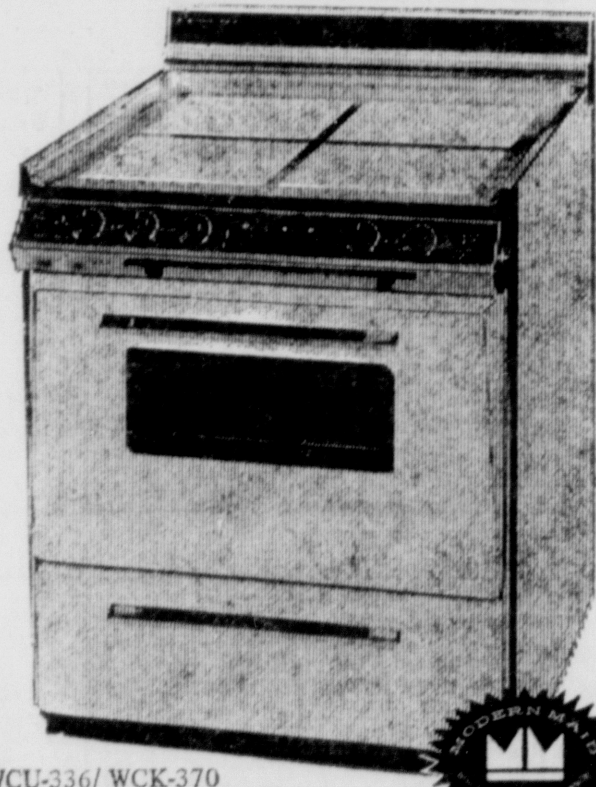

Lt. Donald Karl Logan of Northridge, Calif., said, "Tell my wife to stop typing her letters at the end of her letters. Tell her to write it out so I know it's her."

"Say hi to Patty for me," said bachelor Air Force Lt. Greg Hanson, from Thousand Oaks, Calif., in a personal message.

"Just don't play games with the packages," said Lt. Richard Fulton, from Mesa, Ariz., when told by the visitors of North Vietnamese charges that spying devices were being sent into the camps from America.

Capt. David Hoffman, from San Diego, Calif., mentioned the names of several other POWs and said, "Those people have not received any mail from their families since the day they were shot down."

Day after day, week after week, you can depend on the outstanding quality of Kroger ground meat. What's our secret? ... it's simple ...

1. When the label reads "GROUND BEEF ROUND" you can be sure it's ground only from the round. Our aim with fresh ground round ... 14% fat for flavor.
2. When the label reads "GROUND BEEF CHUCK," you can be sure it's ground only from the chuck. Our aim with fresh ground chuck ... 18% fat for flavor.
3. Our "Extra Lean Ground Beef" is all beef from several different cuts, freshly ground. Our aim ... 22% fat for flavor.
4. Our "Ground Beef," too, is made only from beef ... nothing added. With ground beef, our aim is ... 28% fat for flavor.

We feel it is our duty to keep our customers informed on the quality and labeling of our ground meat products including the control of fat content in our modern refrigerated meat plant under the supervision of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Not all stores can make these claims so don't be fooled. Know exactly what you're buying. Shop Kroger and be sure.
